

Partner With Us

Whether you are a survivor seeking support, a safe house interested in sponsoring a private cohort, a community organization looking for survivor-led education, or a university seeking a lived-experience expert, we invite you to partner with us.

Together, we are restoring financial dignity, expanding opportunity, and empowering survivors to build lasting economic independence.

survivors who strengthened their
financial stability.

57

survivors who gained access to housing.

3

survivors who opened
their first bank accounts.

9

Survivors who purchased their first vehicle, creating greater access to employment,
education, and essential services.

The Credit Reclaim Project relies on grant funding, government funding, corporate sponsorships and community support in order for All services to be provided to survivors FREE of charge excluding self referred clients.
